Many people are currently looking for new places to live. These can be temporary or permanent. The new places to live are being sought at home and abroad, often also as capital investments.

Schöner Living is the name of the exhibition for new places to live at the popular Rheingolf Messe Düsseldorf. At Station Airport, the new Rheingolf location, Schöner Living will have its own level, the gallery with its spectacular views of the airfield with jets taking off and landing.

13 stand spaces of 9, 12 and 18 sqm are available here. The visitors' restaurant and the "Campus" stage are located on the same level. Here exhibitors have the opportunity to present their products. The separate level, which can be reached from the ground floor by escalators, is important for Schöner Living exhibitors. Visitors who are not interested in golf go here directly to the Schöner Living exhibitors. The golf visitors are naturally also interested in what they have to offer, because golf properties in particular are in vogue.

"After the Corona break, our approach of inviting visitors together with our exhibitors was spot on and was rewarded by the visitors/guests," says trade fair boss Michael Jacoby. "Against this background, we have decided today to waive an entrance fee in 2024 as well!"

The Airport Station in the airport railway station is perfectly accessible. The direct proximity to Düsseldorf Airport allows day visitors to fly in. The international exhibitors welcomed the uncomplicated arrival and departure. More than half of all visitors took advantage of the convenient and environmentally friendly journey by S-Bahn, Regio-Bahn and ICE.

Schöner Living cooperates with Welt am Sonntag. On the Sunday before the exhibition days, a special page will appear in the Sunday newspaper with the highest circulation in NRW. Each of the 13 Schöner Living exhibitors will be presented in it.
